

Dear Physics 211 students,

It was great for us to meet many of you last week for the Lab 0 kickoffs. We hope that you've all been doing well this week, and that you're surviving the recent cold weather if you've been in its path.

This announcement is just to let you know that next week will usher in the start of our regular Lab sessions for Physics 211.

Here are a few points to keep in mind:

- In this lab, you will need a ramp so that you can push your IO device on it. Make sure one of your team members has one.

- The Sections are split into groups A and B, which will meet on alternate weeks. Group A students will meet next week (Week 5) and Group B students will meet the following week (Week 6). The full meeting day schedules for each group can be found on the Lab Zoom Links page and the Course Schedule page.

- Your short prelab assignments are due in smart.physics by 8 am on the morning that your lab section/group meets. For example, this means that Section L1A week A students will have their prelabs due by 8 am on February 22, while the prelab is not due until 8 am on March 1 for the Section L1A week B students.

- The team's lab report should be deposited by 11:59 pm CST on the day of your lab (or at latest by 11:59 pm CST the following day).

- If you have any questions, please post them to Piazza where we can address them for the whole class.

We are looking forward to a fun and smooth Lab 1 experience! I hope that you have been acquainted with your teammates and your IO Lab if you have one. See you all soon for Lab 1!

Best,
Sai (for the 211 lab staff)
