

For the week of 11/7-11/11, there will be no in-person Discussions due to the Election Day holiday (and consequently no quiz as well).

The Discussion problems for next week have now been posted, and we will be using the Physics 211 Zoom Link to host online Discussion sessions throughout the week, according to the schedule below. We encourage you to use this time to work on Discussion problems with your group mates as usual, but we're also happy to answer other questions you may have.
